

Utilities

Do more with JIRA.

This add-on is a collection of useful JIRA Utilities containing the following modules:

Module	Description
Post-function for copying issues	This workflow post function can be attached to a Workflow transition and allows you to copy and link the current issue you are viewing. This is incredibly useful for ITIL implementations of JIRA or Support Centers, where the initial issues can be triaged, and if needed used to raise another issue for a different team
Post-function for creating projects	This workflow post function can create new projects. This is useful for managing large amounts of projects in JIRA, and providing consistency and processes
Group User Select List Custom Fields	2 new Custom Fields that allow users to be selected from a particular group
Time to Comment and Last Comments Custom Fields	2 new Custom Fields that show the time from the creation of an issue to the first comment, and the list of last comments added to an issue
