

Release notes

We have a short release lifecycle (once or twice a week) so that we can always try to improve our products fast and deliver them in a timely manner.

Take note that due to the way Atlassian Connect add-ons are designed, we don't necessarily release a new Marketplace version for every release. This means that multiple add-on versions may correspond to a single Marketplace version.

To be updated.